Collection Summary

Title Bladwell/Wheatley Family Archives

Date Range 1870 – 1962

Location Local Studies Stack

Extent 1 Archival Box + 38 Photographs

Abstract

The Bladwell/Wheatley family archives is a collection of family and business related materials from the old Goulburn and Gunning families, the Bladwells and Wheatleys. Connected by marriage, this combined collection was donated by Ted Bladwell, a family historian who donated the collection upon his death. Both the Wheatley and the Bladwell families were prominent names in the wool and sheep industries of Goulburn region during the early 20th century.

Scope and Content

This collection contains numerous family photos of both the Bladwell and Wheatley relatives, information on the wool industry including a prospectus, wool sale booklet, information regarding the Wool Selling Centre from the 1950's, Newspaper articles and a postcard from the Union Stock Yards, Detroit. There is also a certificate from the Science and Art Department of the Committee of Council on Education.

Conditions Governing Access and Use

The collection is available for research. Copying and publication of material is subject to Copyright restrictions. Access to the collection is by appointment with The Local Studies Officer.

Immediate Source of Acquisition

This collection was donated by Carolyn Bladwell, wife of family historian Ted Bladwell, in 2021 to Goulburn Mulwaree Library, at the request of Ted upon his death in December, 2020.

Arrangement

While the material received was well sorted and arranged, rearrangement was necessary to bring items related to specific series together. Photographs have been store separately in photograph-specific archival storage to ensure their preservation.
